My husband, David, and I want to thank everyone involved in rescuing us from our vehicle in the flooding Santa Cruz earlier this week. Everyone was very kind, polite, caring, and professional, but never once did anyone mention how stupid we had been or berate us for our very unintelligent decision. We know that many people were involved as well as much equipment and we really appreciate all of the help. I did not get anyone's names, but absolutely everyone was the very best, especially the young lady,(Alex?) who kept in contact with us.

Everyone's skill and kindness was truly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Beverly
